Rigging Requirements for Managers and Supervisors Safety training is important at all levels of an organization. “Rigging For Supervisors” is ideal for those who do not work directly with rigging equipment, but still require a basic understanding of standards and principles. This webinar will provide tools and resources that management can utilize to support their workers when involved in rigging activities. Supervisors’ roles require them to support and monitor their workers activities on a regular basis.
Topics covered in this webinar are:

- Employers’ responsibilities when it comes to the equipment’s integrity.
- Employers’ responsibilities when it comes to confirming a worker’s competency and the documentation required.
- Company policy and procedure requirements.
- Mentorship tools that can be used to monitor the rigging activities on site.
