Picture This! Shocking Video Debunks Workplace ‘Accidents’

This shocking video from prevent.it.ca opens with the actor in the photo explaining how she’s not going to be getting married on the weekend because she is about to have a “terrible accident.” The actor then picks up a boiling hot deep fryer, saying she should first have cleaned up spilled grease on the floor, and suddenly slips and falls, dumping the pot’s scalding contents onto her face and body. The video closes with the statement “there really are no accidents.” This is a disturbing, but extremely effective video that you can use to bring home to your workers the importance of promptly cleaning up any spills.
