People Analytics – HR Course

Course Description

People analytics empower organizations to leverage data to optimize employee experience, create the best possible organization structure and maximize productivity. This course outlines what you need to know about how to get started with people analytics.